

AGAIN THE RACE IS DECLARED OFF.

The Yachts Start in a Stiff Breeze That Dies Away With the Columbia Ahead at the Finish.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. GALILEE—1:35 p. m.—Both boats are standing on starboard tack, and not over forty-five yards apart. The Columbia manages to hold her windward position, and neither is at this minute getting any advantage over the other. 4:27—A gun has just been fired on the committee boat, and it looks as if the race had been called off. HIGHLANDS—1:31 p. m.—The race is off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—At sunrise this morning a strong northerly breeze was stirring up the white caps on the upper bay. The sky was clear, a light autumn haze hung over the Long Island and Staten Island shores, and the air was crisp and invigorating. Briefly it would have been impossible to imagine a morning more promising of a fine race between the Columbia and Shamrock. The disappointments of Tuesday and Thursday, however, had affected the spirits of the yachtsmen and yachswomen, for the number of people hurrying to the excursion fleet did not appear to be nearly as large as on the previous days. Off the Battery only five tugs were waiting for passengers. These boats included the tug Volunteer, flying the Shamrock's flag, which was taking on board the guests of Sir Thomas Lipton, who were subsequently transferred to Sir Thomas' yacht Erin, in the Horsehoe.

LIPTON'S GUESTS.

Among these guests were Rear Admiral Schley, the Earl of Minto, the Hon. Cecil Baring, R. H. Little, Q. C. Barclay Warburton, W. H. Kendall and Mrs. Kendall, C. G. Carey, Prince Leopold de Croÿ, Prince Reginald de Croÿ, Prince Tanjinhji, Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and Lady Beresford, Frank Tilford, Captain and Mrs. Chadwick, the Hon. Arnold Morley, the Hon. Charles Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Wm. Gibson and his party, Michael Cuddey and Burke Cockran.

The first weather bulletin of the day came from Galilee, N. J., from which point the Associated Press correspondent at 5:02 a. m. reported that the north wind was whistling down the coast at the rate of twenty miles an hour. He added, however, that the breeze showed signs of moderating by noon. A heavy sea was running by that time and the observation limit was twelve miles.

STRONG WIND BLOWING.

At the Highlands about 3 o'clock the tug and started out for the lightship under sail. She had up her mainsail and jib and headed up for the channel on the starboard tack. Just as she got under way the Columbia came down the channel and rounded the southwest spit in tow of her tug.

The Columbia stopped before reaching the Hook, half a mile west of the point. The Shamrock ran out past the Hook at a lively gait.

The wind then still held from the north-north-east, blowing about fifteen knots an hour.

The water off shore from the Highlands was very clear, and twenty miles could be seen.

The Shamrock made the run out from her anchorage to Sandy Hook lightship, Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Oct. 7.—A royal proclamation summoning Parliament to meet on October 17th, and authorizing the calling out of the reserves, was signed this morning.

The Gazette announces that summons will be issued today for the number of reserves necessary to bring every battalion ordered to South Africa to its full strength of 1,000 men, and the men must present themselves before October 17th. The forward movement here is fully counterbalanced by stories of military preparations in the Transvaal and the Orange Free State.

BOERS WORSE THAN ZULUS.

The Evening News published the following dispatch from Cape Town:

The reports of barbaric excesses committed by the Boers on refugees have caused a thrill of horror here. In one instance seventy women and children were packed in a cattle truck so tightly that they were unable to sit and were kept side-lacked for thirty hours without food or water. When they attempted to leave the truck they were driven back with blows.

Every train load of refugees brings harrowing accounts of the barbarities of the Boers of the Orange Free State. A train arrived today that had been nine-six hours en route. The sufferings of the women were dreadful. Several births occurred on the way, one in an open cattle truck containing twenty men.

SENATOR PERKINS WANTS HARMONY.

Says Harbor Plans Will Be Defeated if Oakland and Alameda Do Not Stop Quarreling.

United States Senator George C. Perkins, upon THE TRIBUNE'S request, this morning expressed himself very freely and positively about the controversy between Oakland and Alameda concerning harbor improvements that has begun to make itself heard. Without criticizing either side or any party to this controversy, the Senator declared it as unnecessary, in view of the facts, and as likely, if persisted in, to occasion, or at least make possible, the indefinite prolongation of all work for harbor improvement on this side of the bay.

"When I first went to Congress some years ago," said Senator Perkins, "there was at first some little blocking between the two towns over the plan of work in this harbor that had been approved by General Davidson, Colonel Mendell and the other government engineers.

"We in Congress asked for an expression of opinion and wishes on the part of Oakland and Alameda that should be harmonious, and upon which we could accomplish some practical results. This we were given. Resolutions were adopted by a joint committee of the Oakland Board of Trade and a committee of the City Council of Alameda, speaking for the people of those two respective communities. That utterance expressly and unitedly approved the plans that the government engineers had arrived at. It was signed by Edison F. Adams, James P. Taylor and M. J. Keller for the Oakland body and by Joseph F. Forrester, John U. McLean and W. R. Poyzer for Alameda.

Mutiny on Excursion Steamer and Four or Five Men Are Killed.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Philadelphia excursion steamer Georgiana, which went to the cup race this morning, returned to this city this afternoon with her flag at half-mast and with the American ensign hoisted with the union down, indicating a death on board and wanting assistance.

As she passed the Battery the Captain Taylor and M. J. Keller for the Oakland body and by Joseph F. Forrester, John U. McLean and W. R. Poyzer for Alameda.

"Armed with this important ammunition, we proceeded to carry out the ex-

Chief of Police Devery, as soon as he learned of the trouble on the Georgiana, sent several platoons of police to the North River pier, where she will dock. As soon as the Captain of the Georgiana was assured of police protection the steamer made up to the pier and began to make fast.

Police began to assemble. The gates were immediately locked and guarded by the police and no persons were allowed to enter or leave the pier.

POLICE CLUB PASSINGERS.

The passengers on the Georgiana, who attempted to land at the pier were clubbed back by the police, but one man dropped into a row boat and landed at pier 5. This passenger, who refused to give his name, said that the Georgiana had been chartered by an organized gang of Philadelphia and New York gamblers. He said the yacht was a side-wheel steamer, formerly plying between this city and Lincoln park. She was sent to New York for the races.

GAMBLING BOAT ROW.

The Georgiana dawdled to a point off Coney Island and then slowed down and it was quite evident to all passengers that they were in a gambling boat instead of a pleasure steamer whose objective point was the yacht race.

NO ONE KILLED.

The passengers then waited on the Captain and demanded that the vessel should proceed to the race course or that their money be returned. This appeal proved unavailing and a riot ensued. During the melee several were badly beaten. It is now said that no one was killed.

MINISTERS ARE CALLED DOWN.

Will Be Tried for Heresy for Mary Tray Accuses Husband of Cruelty and Sues For a Divorce

The skeleton in the closet of the Pacific Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South came out this morning when Rev. Taylor of the Willows Church and Rev. Reeve of the Church of Oxford were called to account for circulating "divine healing" literature.

All through the conference meetings Bishop Duncan has been questioning the ministers closely in regard to the circulation of the objectionable literature in their districts, but the reason for this questioning has been kept secret until this morning, when the charges against the two brothers were preferred.

The pamphlet objected to is a collection of sermons by the Rev. John Alex. Dowie, the founder of the sect which he styles the Christian-Catholic Church.

The pamphlet advocates the "divine healing" or faith cure doctrine and contains many statements to which the members of the conference object.

In a sermon the Rev. Dowie speaks of the Methodist church as "a divine healing" or faith cure doctrine and contains many statements to which the members of the conference object.

There was one thing made plain at the whole Methodist position. I can understand a man sometimes in unbelief saying a thing a little while, but when I found the Methodist church stating not only on the part of the pastor, but on the part of the congregation, that they were willing to accept of the doctrine of faith cure, I was struck as by the most idiotic performance I had ever seen.

"They were quite willing to accept of the doctrine of faith cure, I was struck as by the most idiotic performance I had ever seen."

They were quite willing to accept of the doctrine of faith cure, I was struck as by the most idiotic performance I had ever seen.

SCANDAL COMES FROM PLEASANTON

Will Be Tried for Heresy for Mary Tray Accuses Husband of Cruelty and Sues For a Divorce

Mary T. Tray began suit today, through Attorneys Harris and Donahue, for a divorce from Daniel Tray on the ground of extreme cruelty.

The Trays reside in Pleasanton and are people of some prominence. Mrs. Tray was at one time a member of the Board of Town Trustees and has been identified for years with public affairs in Pleasanton.

In her complaint Mrs. Tray tells a pitiful story of brutal treatment and abuse. The couple were married in San Francisco in 1894 and soon took up their residence in Pleasanton. The wife alleges that her husband's brutal conduct toward her began shortly after their marriage, and has of late become so cruel that she has been forced to leave her home.

Mrs. Tray alleges that on September 5th of this year her husband knocked her down with his fists and beat her so that she was bruised and sore for several days. She also alleges that her husband has been cruel to her in many other ways, and that she could not raise him. On October 4th another quarrel occurred. Besides beating her on this occasion, Mrs. Tray alleges that her husband caught her by the hair and pulled her around the room. It is also alleged that the husband, at Pleasanton, has wife drove her from her home and locked the door so that she could not return.

The plaintiff wants $75 a month alimony and $300 counsel fees.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KEWANEE, Ill., Oct. 7.—Although the itinerary of the Presidential train did not include a stop here, a dense crowd was gathered at the station, and in deference to the people a stop was made. The President arrived at a platform and made a brief address, which called forth great enthusiasm. A large portion of his audience were workmen from the shops and factories of Kewanee.

The President said:

"Fellow citizens: I thank you for this part of the journey. I appreciate these expressions, not as personal to myself, but as a tribute to the Government of the United States.

"I am glad to meet the workmen of this busy town and my fellow-citizens generally and congratulate them over the improved business conditions over 1898."

"Somebody has asked what are the signs of the times. Coming along on the railway, I received a letter from one of your great workers here, and I thought it gave the best answer that could be made. Here it is:

"From 100 to 300 men were turned from our gates every morning and night who were looking for work. These people went away with tears in their eyes, and I have seen many of them people for a few days at a time, simply to enable them to live. During the last two years our bulletin board has been crowded with notices of additional men wanted."

"In one of your factories in 1898, in the month of September, you paid $33,000 to labor in the same year in 1897 you paid $103,000 to labor. I am told that this railroad over which we are traveling loaded in the month of September of this year 1300 more men than ever before in a single month in its history with the products along its line from farms, mills and factories, and 1,000 more than were loaded in the same month of the year 1897."

"I can congratulate you upon the prosperity that prevails in this community and throughout the country. The hum of industry is heard here and there, and the voice of despair is no longer heard in the United States."

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Judge Townsend of the United States Circuit Court of the Southern District of New York, in an opinion handed down today overruled the decision rendered by the defendants in the case of the Merchants' Trust Company against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company, growing out of a controversy over the right of the railroad to use the tracks of the company in 1897, to secure a lease of bonds aggregating $20,000,000.

The defendant company filed plans that the railroad company was asked for the property was in the hands of the receivers, appointed on petition of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company, and that the accounts had been accepted and approved by the court with the assent of the complainant corporation. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—With so many local political issues on the tapis as naturally result from the framing of the Republican and Democratic municipal tickets, it is a hard task to stir up anything really new regarding the extra session, especially as the nearer one gets to the seat of knowledge the more difficult it becomes to get any actual information. Of street rumors there are plenty, but many are so contradictory that they might as well be ignored, for in the absence of any reliable source of gossip consists simply of the surmises of some individual who is just as likely to be wrong as right, or else it is a badly distorted picture of the actual situation and battered during the course of a long process of filtration.

A way as to postpone the election of officers until the second day and thereby delay the Senatorial election, and create additional opportunities for a deadlock. All talk of a sixty-one or sixty-two caucus has now subsided, and as all the Republicans have practically agreed to go into a full party gathering of eighty-five, whoever wants to carry off the senatorial prize will have to secure up forty-three votes. As Colonel Burns is within thirteen of that number with his old vote at Sacramento, and as it is well known that several of the members who decided to vote for him last winter are now in his fold, it can be seen that he has but a short distance to go. It is the knowledge of this that makes it almost a certainty that he will be Senator, for when once he gets within five or six newspaper men, who for many years was a member of the staff of the Daily Report.

By the way, there is a good deal of laughing over the way Colonel Burns has been treated by the Republic's boss. They originally started in to run him for Mayor. Then he was dropped to County Clerk and beaten for that nomination, and after the hopes of many to the front again to fill out the list of Supervisors. The object of pinning him on the ticket at all is, of course, to attract the several members who decided to can party, and it will be interesting to see how much all this enthusiasm has been indulging in of late amounts to when real citizens are lined up at the polls.

SCANDALS ARE SEETHING.

heard of the big burden that had been placed upon their shoulders, but their fears were quieted by statements that the natives would prove the biggest laughing card San Francisco had had for many a season, that the whole town would flock to see them; that the money expended would come back three or four times over, and so on.

Colonel Burns has the hopes of many. From the first the great Filipino circus was what is known in the vernacular as a frost. The visitors to the fair did not trust the natives to camp here, but that was held out to them in the form of a gradually covered canvas stretched across one end of the building and concealing a section from whence issues forth the screams of a few and a melody such as characterizes am-

A NEWSPAPER WAR.

Senator Charles M. Shortridge was in town this week, accompanied by Secretary of the Senate Frank Brandon and Assemblyman Kelsey, the latter being on hand to succeed to the chief deputyship in the Labor Bureau.

Senator Shortridge is as happy as a clam in high water nowadays, for since he got back into the newspaper business he feels like himself again. He is wearing his business costume in big shape, and he says that subscriptions are coming in so fast that he sees park. As two slots are run off each week, it is easy to see what a big business this is. The average person has to be persuaded there are positions to be figured on in the shape of a horse race. The odds are, of course, everything is not profit. Each judge at the three parks gets $300 a week. The three judges get $900 an office, and in each book five men are paid $100 each. The three judges get $300 each. For the Ingleside Coursing Park & the other two parks, the rental of $500 a month is paid, and the Ingleside Park is at an expense of $800 a month for its grounds, in addition to the $500 a month for the park. Every Sunday afternoon, however, when the races are run, there is a road fat balance each month on the right side of the ledger, and what is the result? The Ingleside Coursing Park has got a bad attack of the dog-racing epidemic, and the epidemic is spreading rapidly.

The image is heavily degraded with noise and artifacts, making it difficult to discern specific details. The texture appears grainy and mottled, with varying shades of gray and black. A prominent vertical line runs along the right edge of the frame.

The inquiry came too late for me to offer it with due formality to the HUBBONS accomplished and eminent literary Editor. Therefore, under strictest circumstances I submitted it to Walter L. Hackett, the wit and race of one of the most select and unerring men to ever edit a magazine.

the Linkage Award, I promptly received the following reply: "I have specimens of type-writing I have even owned. Although Ralph Waldo Emerson could hitch his chariot to a star, in evidence that Onitland young schoolmen do not always attain equal success the attempt to harness Pegasus to type-writing machine. However, as I assume it is information rather than type-writing elegance which my document correspondent in the country looking TREESNE-wards for, I reproduce in reply to her inquiry as it was presented."

"It is not obligatory to acknowledge one's engagement announcement with congratulations. Marriage is a most intimate relationship and one should be truthful about one's friends. If, therefore, it were known that the marriage of which one disapproved, would be eminently proper to acknowledge, to express one's convictions against, or the expediency of the match. If I knew that the prospective groom had been so addicted to smoking as the church would consider a habit as the check of tobacco, the bride should certainly be apprised thereof. Or, should she happen to know any bad habits

As to the form—there is no extant form that it must not under any circumstances be in the third person, as third persons always do drop in our engagement. With thanks to Mr. Hackett for graciously helping me out of a dilemma.

The production of Manquepote's delightful comic opera, "Rip Van Winkle," has again confirmed the good opinion of the company at the Grand Opera House, who

THE TIVOLI.

The Tivoli has passed from grave to

The "Mikado" has alternated with "Jida," "Cavalcade," "Hansel and Gretel," and "Carmen." The "Mikado" introduced to the patrons of the house the new comedian, Art Hues, who as Kato made a decidedly favorable impression. Other new members are Tom Greave, whose tenor is a delight to the ear, and Julie Cott, whose cleanness is who are responsible for the book; Victor Roger and Lionel Monckton, who composed the music, and as these authors have written some of the most brilliant works in this line of entertainment when they joined forces and produced "Hotel Paris," they are naturally inclined to have proved a musical comedy of exceptional merit. It is said to be remarkably brilliant and up-to-date.

THE ALCAZAR.

Reuben Reed's amusing farce-comedy, "Concert of a Lemon," has been the hit at the Alcazar this week, and has delighted the large audiences that have thronged the theatre since its first night. Given by the Alcazar Company with such vim and vigor, such smoothness and fluency of delivery, that the performances are keenly enjoyable.

The company is said to be one of the strongest that it was possible to cast for this kind of entertainment, and as it is coming here intact, with nearly sixty people, it should make a very fine drawing card for the season.

Every situation was accurately presented, and every climax brought real emotion to the audience. The production by the audience. Such can be said of the acting. Picturesquely speaking, the production was a masterpiece. All the settings are elaborate, and true art is clearly shown, and master workmanship is evident. It is said to be none other than the much-sold story of "The Two Orphans," which has been made into a play and a picture and is known to everybody. Doubtless there is not a child or a chick that at one time or other has not seen that play. It is now being produced in a new and improved form on a scale of perfection to rival its earlier day productions when the leading theatres of the country have been unable to think "The Two Orphans" as a musical.
